REDS HURL BIG ARMY AT POLAND

WARSAW, March 24.—Bolshevik attacks have been launched against the Polish line at scattered points along a front of approximately 400 miles and the long-planned spring attack by the Russian Soviet armies apparently has been commenced. The Poles have been holding the enemy in check in most sections, say official statements. The red troops are using heavy artillery, tanks, armored cars and other apparatus captured from General Denikin on the South Russian front.

Most severe fighting took place on Tuesday on the Polesian-Podol front near the Galician frontier. Heavy engagements are also reported in the vicinity of Zaslava, southeast of Lvov and Staro-Konstantinov, where the reds attempted to cross the Slutch river.

Rovno is important to the Poles, as through it runs the only railroad by which supplies can be shipped to the army along the southern front.

that she saw the girl constantly and that never did the latter confide to her fear of any one person. Moreover she says she knew all of her friends except the ones she met when she went to her classes at the Bureau and technical evening schools, and of these she is able to furnish the authorities with practically no information.

NEWSPAPER GAVE FIRST NEWS OF SLAYING

With the message sent out to her by the Piedmont authorities telling her only that her niece had been killed, Miss Blomquist knew none of the details of the murder until she picked up a paper yesterday morning.

When Detective Sergeant Fred Heiser of the Piedmont police department met her at Port Costa she was in a state of collapse and pleaded eagerly for details of the tragic event.

Sobbing hysterically she was unable to give the detective any information on which might be used in tracing the girl's assailant. At the West Berkeley station Miss Blomquist and her mother were met before 5 p. m. by Chief of Police Becker of Piedmont, and the aunt was driven immediately to the Nelson home, where she was put to bed under the care of Mrs. Nelson, with instructions that no one was to see her until she had recovered from the shock of the news.

Miss Blomquist assumed that her niece was killed in an automobile wreck or some similar accident as a result of the meager details sent her and sent such news on to the slain girl's mother in Sweden. Across the continent with her Miss Blomquist carried a letter written by Mrs. Carlson to her mother and to be personally delivered by the aunt upon her arrival. It was this letter that the aunt tore open and inserted the brief message that Ulla had been found in an accident and that she was forced to retrace her steps to California.

The funeral of Ulla Carlson will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Berg undertaking parlors in Berkeley.

PUT EGGS DOWN NOW BECAUSE

They Will Be Up Next Winter—Process Is Easy

How would you like to have the groceryman inform you that eggs were 10c apiece?

There is a strong probability that this will be the case next fall.

The only alternatives will be to go without them, to purchase cold storage eggs, or to have some of your own preserved eggs. Eggs preserved in your own home can be kept for a year without any trouble whatsoever, and if anyone tells you that it is difficult to put up eggs, it is either because they have never used the Sileate of Soda method, or because they have had no experience in the matter.

Sileate of Soda (sometimes called liquid glass) sells for 20c a bottle.

The eggs are put into whatever receptacle you decide to use—a stone crock is the best—and one pint of Sileate of Soda is poured into 10 pints of water and the solution is then poured over the eggs in the container.

This is absolutely all you have to do, and you can begin using the eggs at once if you wish to do so, and you can take them out of the container as you require them. They will keep at least 12 months.

Full directions are upon every bottle and you can get enough for 20c to put up at least eight dozen eggs.

FLASH LIGHT KODAK PICTURES

You Can Take Interiors Easily

Have you ever tried to take flash lights with your Kodak?

You can, 20c. Kodak's interiors are using flash light cartridges which cost only a few cents each.

All you have to do is to set your camera, light a fuse and you are sure to get a good picture.

We have all kinds of flash light apparatus and would be glad to give you instructions if interested.

Prices of the more popular models range from $2.50 up, although we have some that sell for even less than this amount. They come in all kinds of leathers, all-

KLENZOL GETS THE GREASE SPOTS

Save Your Cleaner Bills and Save Your Clothes

How much do you pay the cleaner every month to keep your clothes in order?

In addition to his bills remember that you are also suffering severe wear and tear upon the garments because no cleaner is particularly careful upon a suit of clothes and the less you have them cleaned by professional cleaners the longer they will wear.

A good suit, hung up in the closet for a week or 10 days will generally come back into shape.

Grease spots, however, have to be taken off either at home or by the cleaner and we believe we have the best spot remover you ever used. It is called Klenzol and is a chemical compound that dissolves grease and saves the fabric because you do not have to rub very hard to get results.

If you put Klenzol on with a sponge and rub it a little with a rag the spot disappears. It can be used upon the finest laces as well as upon the roughest of materials. It is the friend of the mother of the dirty boy and the enemy of grease spots that gather upon Daddy's vest.

25c and 50c.

WHY NOT ENLARGE YOUR OWN PICTURE?

Everyone who is interested in photography is also interested in enlarging.

Although splendid enlargements can be obtained from almost any negative at small cost, some people prefer to make their own enlargements, in which case they will be glad to know that at our stores we have complete apparatus for this work.

It is not a difficult matter to make your own enlargements and the enlarging outfits are not expensive.

Enlarging can be done at night if you wish to do so by using an electric illuminator.

Further details at the Kodak Department.

AND THE ANTS ARE COMING!

They're All Ready For Their Big Spring Campaign

There are probably about a million little Argentine ants that are getting ready to stick their little noses above ground and appear upon your premises early in the morning of the first warm day. When they begin to show up, do not forget that at Bowman's we have an ant exterminator that will absolutely keep these pests out of your house and that the colony will be killed off if you use it continuously and as per our directions.

It might be a good idea to lay in a supply of Argo Ant Poison right now so that you will be ready with your reception as soon as these unwelcome little visitors start operations.

THE BEST TROUBLE LIGHT

If you had a puncture or engine trouble on a dark night how would you get a close-up view of the source of difficulty?

If you have a trouble light in your car, in good working order, you have partly solved the problem, but the best trouble light of all is the Daylight Eveready Flash Light.

Every automobile should carry one of these flash lights for emergencies.

Suppose you really get one now—you probably have been thinking of it for some time. They are very inexpensive. We have them in many different models and we carry extra batteries for all of the different kinds.

TRY THIS!

One of the discomforts of travel and traveling is the battle that always goes on between your complexion and the elements. If you will take along a bottle of Bowman's Benzoin Cream and if you will apply a liberal quantity of this cooling lotion before you start and will use it regularly while away, you will find upon your return that you have protected your skin against sunburn, chaps and freckles in a surprisingly satisfactory manner.

NEWSPAPER WOMAN FORCED TO GIVE UP

Among the many splendid endorsements that have been given Tanlac by the people of California, none is more interesting than the statement made by Miss H. P. Ames, 225 North Street, Los Angeles. Miss Ames has been a valued employee of the Los Angeles Times for the past seven years.

Consider Tanlac has been worth all of ten dollars a bottle to me," said Mrs. Ames, and those wishing to know personally what I think of it have my permission to phone Broadway 7551, and I'll be only too glad to tell them all about it. I started in 1913 my stomach began giving me trouble and since then I have been almost a constant sufferer until I got relief a short time ago by taking Tanlac. Always after meals I had a stuffed-up feeling and my heart beat so hard and fast at times that it alarmed me. About a year and a half ago I just collapsed completely and fainting spells. I was unable even to walk up a short flight of stairs. I was so nervous I could not sleep and finally got to where I simply had to give up my work and try to find relief. I was so nervous I just could not sleep at times. My back hurt me constantly and I could not get more than an hour's rest at a time.

I was so impressed by reading what other people with similar troubles to my own said it had done for them that I bought a bottle and it may sound unreasonable, but it's a fact, the second dose helped me. I am on my fifth bottle now and feel like a new person. I can hardly eat enough to keep my weight and just anything I want and it agrees with me perfectly. For I do not have the slightest touch of indigestion. My nerves are calm and steady and I sleep every night just like a baby. Why, I have never felt better in my life. I have gained eleven and one-half pounds and I am perfectly happy because Tanlac has restored my health and I can attend to my duties in the office as well as I ever did. The benefit I have gotten from Tanlac makes me praise it to all my friends and I know several of them who are taking it with splendid results. I am glad to give my experience with Tanlac for in my opinion it is no equal to any other medicine in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores—Advertisement.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon, apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications at intervals of a few days will entirely destroy it. Dissolve and entirely remove it with single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be soft, lustrous, glossy, silky and fluffy, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Late this afternoon, and last night on telephone instructions from New York on an embarrasment charge, will not be returned to the east, the police said today, until they have investigated what they believe may develop into a swindle involving thousands of dollars in which scores of persons in San Francisco were victimized.

Wounds Assailant, Man Attacked Says

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—John Garey of 430 Third street, was shot and wounded in both arms, when he and two companions were attacked by William Frank, 781 Polson street, at Third and Howard streets last evening with a piece of lead pipe, Frank declared.

Frank, who is employed by the B. Braun company, manufacturing engineers on Polson street, says he was attacked by three men who struck him over the head with a piece of pipe. He opened fire with a revolver, wounding Garey. Garey was arrested when he applied to the harbor emergency hospital for treatment.

Robbers Crack Safes in Lurline Market

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Forcing their way into the Lurline market, 424 California street, early today by removing the panels from a rear door, cracksmen blew open two safes in the establishment, rifled them of $300 in currency and escaped.

The intruders wheeled the safes from the office the full length of the store into the ice chest, where they blew off the combination with nitroglycerin. The shock of the explosion blew glass and pieces of woodwork in all directions.

BURGLARS LOOT TRUNK OF $806

The theft of $806.15 by burglars was reported to the police this morning by Mrs. Pauline Garcia, 1829 Marine way. According to Mrs. Garcia, the thieves entered her house between 7 and 8 p. m. last night by jimmying a rear window. The money, which consisted mostly of a bill of large denomination, was taken from a purse hidden in the bottom of a trunk. The house was searched but nothing else of value was taken by the marauders. The trunk in which the money was hidden was in the attic, and Mrs. Garcia is convinced that the men who broke into the house knew that a large sum was in her possession. Two men were seen lurking near the house shortly before Mrs. Garcia left last night, and she was able to furnish a good description of them to the police.

Seance Halted by Police; Karl Marx's Medium Held

"Hello, police?" came a voice over the wire to the police station. "There's a Bolshevik meeting going on here on Grove street."

Inspector Fenton Thompson, chief of the loyal squad, had gone home hours since, and William Kyle, the second member of the famous police detail, was acting as night captain of inspectors, so Sergeant John Pullman and a squad of patrolmen responded.

The police found a dilapidated building at the address given by the voice over the wire. "Three cheers for the Bolsheviks!" "Down with the Bourgeois!" "Workers of the world unite; you have nothing to lose but your chains, you have a world to gain!" These were the phrases that floated down the dingy stairway of a lodging house.

Sergeant Pullman saw, gathered around a large table, a group of fifteen persons with their hands placed palm down upon the table, who remained in total oblivion to the blue-coated officer.

At one end of the table sat a young man from whose lips came the flood of revolutionary phraseology. "What's the big idea here?" asked the policeman; "what are you folks trying to pull off here?"

"Shh! You mustn't disturb him," admonished others at the seance. "The spirit of Karl Marx is speaking through him."

Horace W. Philbrook, disbarred attorney, jailed in Oakland yesterday for refusal to make an accounting to the court of the estate of the late Humphrey A. Randall, has been released on a writ of habeas corpus granted by Associate Justice William P. Llewellyn of the appellate court and made returnable April 12.

Upon the death of his wife, Philbrook, who lives at 159 Alpine way, San Francisco, became administrator of the Randall estate. He was arrested in San Francisco some time ago at the behest of Judge E. C. Robinson but was released when he promised an accounting. He failed to comply yesterday afternoon and was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Eddie Barrett of Alameda county, and lodged in the county jail here where he asked for a typewriter. When asked if he was going to make an accounting he shouted, "Never. I never shall."

Philbrook objected to being photographed and to having his finger prints taken.

AERO MAIL TEST TO RENO PLANNED

Aeroplane 12-hour-and-return mail service from Oakland to Reno may be instituted as an experiment tomorrow when Postmaster Joseph J. Koberough will motor to Durant field with a pouch of mail and deliver it to R. C. (Cliff) Durant, who will cross the Sierras at 12,000 feet elevation and deliver the pouch at the Reno postoffice. Koberough is in his plane. Postmaster Burleson has been telegraphed for authorization to perform the stunt.

The 400-mile round trip of 400 miles in twelve hours, including the stop at Reno, making a one-day mail service between the two cities, is the contention of Durant. If the experiment works out, Koberough will ask that a permanent service be established.

Durant says he has a ship with sufficient power to cross the Sierras at an altitude of 12,000 feet.

WHITE WINE AND SONG PULL GRIEF IN THEIR TRAIL

Too much effervescent conviviality was responsible for the downfall of one Joe O'Donnell, a member of a cigar stand coterie at Seventh and Pine streets, and at an early session of the corner causing this morning he was proving the life of the party.

Joe had a large bottle of white wine in his possession and as a consequence found himself the center of attention.

All was well until a policeman appeared on the scene and casually inquired the cause of the general exuberance.

"Flash a right officer, have drink on me," said Joe, flushed with his sudden accession to popularity.

"Sure I will. I'll take the whole bottle, if you don't mind, and you along with it," replied the policeman, as he rang for the patrol wagon.

Joe is awaiting transportation to federal authorities in San Francisco.

AUTO FOUND IN BAY MYSTERY TO DETECTIVES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—A late model Pope-Hartford touring car was found lying in the bay off Pier 42 early this morning and the police are investigating to ascertain how the vehicle got there and whether its occupants were drowned or hurt or how it happened to be abandoned in such an unusual manner.

The license number of the vehicle is 177270, issued according to the police to A. C. Witten, 340 West Avon street, Los Angeles. The police have no record of Witten in this city and up to early today no report had been received in connection with a missing or stolen automobile bearing the license number of the machine found in the bay.

After considerable difficulty the automobile was lifted out of the water with a derrick and placed on a barge, where it is awaiting the claim of its owner.

Sapphires are found oftenest in clay soils.

AMERICAN LEGION GOSSIP

Arthur Woods, chairman of the national American Legion commission of the American Legion, has issued the following statement from national headquarters:

"It has been brought to my attention that a plan has been adopted by the 'Reds' to acquire membership in the American Legion for the purpose of finding out what we are doing against them."

"We welcome into the Legion all sorts and conditions of men, the only belief we insist upon is the belief in Americanism. The Legion has no concern with political parties or with industrial, economic or social theories so long as they are consistent with the principles of Americanism."

"The American Legion is against those who are against America, whether they be external or internal enemies. If enemies of America become members of the Legion, they are subject to the same discipline as the Legion's declaration of principles."

"No real harm, however, can be done to the Legion or its work of promoting Americanism by the presence in its membership of such persons. We are working to promote public welfare and good citizenship and the more they find out about the better. It will do them good."

"They will find it very difficult, yes, impossible to convert to a belief in anarchy men of the stuff that make up our membership. And they will run grave risk of being converted themselves to a belief in law and order as a prerequisite to social and economic justice and happiness."

"We welcome in the Legion any person who has acquired eligibility by reason of his service in the great war and who subscribes to the constitution which specifies in the preamble the purpose of the Legion."

"To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a love for the American flag; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness."

Corns Go As "Gets-It" Comes

Pain Stops Immediately--Loosen and Lift Off Quickly

A few drops and "goodby!" That's how "Gets-It," the modern corn killer, handles corns. All you do is put a few drops on the corn, "Gets-It" does the rest—and it is a plenty. Pain ceases instantly—corn ready to lift off soon after.

A very little time and a bottle of "Gets-It" will entirely free you from corns. Then, why not be free? No pain, no trouble, no danger. Just quick, sure, certain relief. Corns and "Gets-It" just will not live together. and it's the corns that move.

It's common sense—the "Gets-It" way. You lift the whole corn right off without even feeling it after "Gets-It" has put it out of business. Corns haven't enough "pep" left to hurt after they mix with "Gets-It."

'SWEETHEART' WAS HIS WIFE, HOTEL IS LOSER

CHICAGO, March 25.—Because a hotel detective had told them that he was part of a murdered wife for a husband to call his wife "sweetheart," the Morrison Hotel will have to pay Mrs. Cassius C. Smiley $25,000 according to a jury's verdict made public today.

The Smileys, who hail from Indianapolis, registered at the hotel April 19, 1918. While they were there, the hotel detective told the house detective passing by in the corridor heard Smiley address his wife as "sweetheart." Despit Mrs. Smiley's negative attire, the detective ordered them to leave.

Sing Herbs Get Credit For Curing Ulcer Case

James Garat, salesman for the Western Meat Company, living at 627 East Tenth Street, Oakland, declares he owes his life to the wonderful treatments of the well-known Sing Herb Specialists which cured him of a malady which American physicians had diagnosed as ulcers or cancer of the stomach.

Before he tried the Sing Herb Treatments Garat consulted many local doctors who diagnosed the pains in stomach and abdomen, loss of weight and inability to digest his food as symptoms of cancer of the stomach or ulcers of the stomach. X-ray photographs showed a growth in the walls of the stomach.

Before he submitted to the operation, Garat went to the Sing Herb Specialists. How the Sing remedies cured him of his serious disease he tells in detail in the following open letter:

March 19, 1920

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Six months ago I faced an operation for ulcers or cancer of the stomach, according to diagnosis of local physicians. I determined to try the Sing Herb Specialists' treatment before I submitted to an operation. After treating with them for the past five months, I have recovered my strength, increased my weight by twenty-five pounds, no longer suffer agonies of pain in my stomach and abdomen and have no difficulty in eating or digesting my meals when I am out on the road for the Western Meat Company. I am overjoyed at the opportunity of telling people about my remarkable experience with the Sing Herb Specialists. They saved me from a terrible operation and are probably responsible for my being alive today.

JAMES GARAT.

NEW STORM WILL DRENCH ALL STATE

Only the northern coast region up to early today had benefited by the storm which moved in over the State yesterday, according to reports received at the weather bureau in San Francisco today, although conditions are favorable for rain throughout the entire State tonight and Friday, U. S. Weather Observer G. H. Williams said.

None of the valleys or interior points received any precipitation up to this morning, although reports received from coast points indicated rainfall has been general, though light. Conditions attending the present disturbance are out of the ordinary, according to Williams. The forecast for the bay region tonight and Friday is probably rain with moderate southwesterly winds.

Among the points receiving rainfall up to 7 o'clock this morning were: Eureka, .50; Santa Rosa, .10; Mt. Tamalpais, .54; San Francisco, .05; Stockton, a trace; San Luis Obispo, .06; Redland, .08; Riverside, .02; San Bernardino, .08; Escondido, .01; San Diego, a trace; Oakland, .19.

WOMEN DECLARE POTATO BOYCOTT

Preliminary steps in a movement to introduce into the Oakland city council an ordinance similar to that before the Berkeley city fathers providing for the establishment of a municipal market were taken yesterday by the Oakland State Housewives' league when a special committee was appointed to confer with Attorney Victor A. Dunn.

Members of the committee are Mrs. H. J. Platts, Mrs. W. T. Cleverdon, Mrs. E. L. Hubbard, Mrs. Lewis. Direct shipments and distributions will be asked during the fruit season.

The Housewives' league will not hesitate to engage in politics at coming elections, according to announcement which was made from the floor. The women will lend support to the candidates who will support their legislative measures.

Renewed boycott was declared on potatoes with an appeal to all consumers to refrain from the purchase of tubers at present high prices. The regular day of meeting will henceforth be on the Mondays alternating with the Oakland Housewives' league. Both organizations meet in the council chambers of the city hall.

Recruits Flock to Community Chorus

Although only 100 members attended the first rehearsal of Oakland's Community Chorus at Chabot hall last Tuesday evening, Director Alexander Stewart expects that the number will be greatly increased at the second rehearsal next Tuesday evening. The chorus is to give a festival concert at the Oakland auditorium under the auspices of the Rotary club early in May.

The officers of the chorus are: Harry Schroeder, chairman; Charles Cass, vice chairman; Miss Geraldine Swafford, secretary; D. E. Graves, Miss Bianchi Hillegas, Mrs. W. P. Hommedieu and Miss Elizabeth Robinson, directors.

McDonough, bail bond broker, and Caterini Bernardino, indicted in connection with the police court graft investigation.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Mrs. Chiorinda Pardini, 738 Front street, saw her six-year-old son, Mario, fall into the black pit of a warehouse basement on Battery street and plunged in after him. Workmen found the mother bleeding and half unconscious from her injuries, tightly clasping her injured child in her arms. The pair were removed to the Harbor Emergency hospital. He and his mother were severely injured.

KEEP THE PLEDGE.

General Milne's proclamation to the population of Constantinople is unfortunately conceived. As the commander of the British units and senior officer of the Allied army of occupation, he has assured the people of the Turkish capital that his sojourn is only temporary and they need have no fear that the Sultan and his government will be ousted from Constantinople.

This is unfortunate if true. It ought not to be true. And if it is not the truth it ought not to have been uttered. The Turks must be dispossessed of their political power in Europe if the future safety is to be guaranteed and the pledge of the Allied governments is to be kept. They cannot be so dispossessed unless the Turkish government and all that it represents is moved to the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus.

Premier David Lloyd George spoke plainly on this matter a few days ago. He assured a delegation of Moslems in London that the Allies were not adopting a harsh attitude toward Turkey because the people and government of that country were Mohammedans. They were merely trying to impose the just penalties of the war, he said, and to make reasonably certain that Turkey would not soon forget her duty as a state pledged to keep the peace at all cost.

This ought not to have been necessary. The most effective part of the war against Turkey was waged in Mesopotamia, Palestine and Syria by the Mohammedan allies of the adversaries of Turkey and her Teutonic confederates. These Asiatic forces that proceeded against Turkey were of Mohammedan countries which had been attacked by Turkey. It is to their interests, as well as to the interests of the European Allies and Armenia, that Turkey be left a contrite, fully convinced, defeated power, with the minimum capacity again to harm the world.

But aside from this there are larger reasons why the spurious claim of the religious protestants against ousting Turkey from Europe should not be recognized. Armenia aspires to be an independent Republic. She has suffered more than enough to be entitled to her freedom of Turkish rule. With the Turks in control of the Dardanelles, Armenia will continue to be isolated commercially and cut off from relief in financial campaigns of extermination.

There is also the historic reason that Turkey has been a plundering alien force in Europe eight centuries—long enough. She is both unsafe and unfit. The time has come for her to withdraw into that domicile in Asia which is hers by right so long as she keeps it in order.

Some of Great Britain's statesmen may desire to see Turkey retain Constantinople. They may envision beneficial trade agreements as a result. France may be induced to agree with England. But the government at Washington has no such strings to its conception of justice and the fulfillment of promises to the world. It should insist that the Turk quit Europe and one of the most important commercial highways of the world opened to all nations. To keep it closed is to pave the way for future conflicts.

MRS. HUMPHREY WARD.

The death of Mrs. Humphrey Ward will be sad news throughout the English speaking world. Her literary career was reasonably long and productive of many books of more than average quality. Through these she counted her friends and admirers by the millions. Her romances were clean, healthy and in some instances at least possessed a certain robustness of character that gave them the quality of endurance.

Mrs. Ward permitted the years of the great war to be the busiest of her life. She worked unmitigatingly in the cause of Great Britain and the other Allies, but with the wide vision with which she beheld humanity and civilization. Readers of THE TRIBUNE will recall her series of articles published by this newspaper following the signing of the armistice, in which she sought to remind the world of the fight to be continued, the fight for saving the wreckage of war and rehabilitating the human victims.

It was in this effort that she showed unexpected powers of estimating the practical equations of human life. If it is true that most of her novels were written, as most novels are, to entertain and for personal profit, here she devoted herself to truth and the duty of presenting it to an interested world. She worked for humanity as the closing episode of her life. She was among the many noble characters of retired age (she was sixty-nine) who made a successful supreme effort on the right side of the great struggle. By that she doubtless would most desire to be remembered.

WHEAT.

So many meaningless statistics are issued by the United States government bureaus that it is at times diverting to note figures compiled in other countries. Such is the case of the latest bulletin issued by the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, organized by the late David Lubin of California, and which makes its special business the gathering of information concerning food crops as considered from a world viewpoint.

This bulletin deals with the world situation regarding wheat, and if it does nothing else it will cause one to wonder why the price of flour remains at its present high point. It points out that as a result of the dislocation of the foreign exchange market countries importing grain have had to submit to an increase in cost, amounting to from twelve to twenty-five percent. This enhancement of cost has acted as a barrier to new purchases.

As a result it is found that the United States with a larger crop of wheat in process of distribution, had shipped nearly one million tons less during the last six months of 1919 than in the corresponding period of 1918; also that the wheat stocks in the hands of millers, dealers and farmers in this country were in January three and three-quarters million metric tons larger than in January, 1919. The stock of rye is also estimated to be 400,000 tons greater than at the corresponding period of last year.

Of course the wheat and flour stocks in January, 1919, were abnormally low, but the increase noted a month ago is very large. It gives ground for the suspicion that a surplus is on hand and is being held against a time when it may be disposed of at a larger profit. The millers and the middlemen between them and the consumer of flour will argue that the government's guarantee of a minimum wheat price to the farmer is at the bottom of present prices. They are correct. But apparently the great surplus is being carefully manipulated in order to sustain the retail flour prices at a point which will leave a comfortable margin of profit to all the interests that intercede between the base wheat price and the cost of bread.

Assuming the information sent out by the Rome Institute of Agriculture to be reasonably exact, it is highly probable that prevailing prices will not be substantially altered until the next harvest is available. What will happen then is problematical. Wheat and other breadstuffs are being produced in greater quantities in many parts of the world and the facilities for distribution are being greatly augmented. With propitious seasonal conditions the Argentine yield was good, and the wheat harvest in British India, now at hand, is also good. Crop conditions in the Northern Hemisphere with reference to the 1920 harvest are generally favorable.

It is interesting to observe, however, that there is a large decrease in the acreage planted to wheat. Winter planting in the United States, for example, is only seventy-seven percent of last year's. This will not necessarily mean a twenty-three percent reduction in this year's yield, for last year much land was sown to wheat which was not well suited to this crop and other wheat land was indifferently cultivated. This year's wheat land will show much better selection and with good weather conditions the harvest may very nearly equal that of last year. On the other hand India has planted fifteen percent more wheat than last year.

Taken as a whole, the world seems to make progress toward readjustment in the interest of normal conditions regarding foodstuffs. With ample shipping facilities to serve the demands of distribution the boarders, if there are any, may be in a way to get squeezed—treated to the same medicine they have been forcibly administering to the consuming public.

If it is true that radicals of American citizenship under indictment for criminal syndicalism have requested that they be permitted to go to Russia in lieu of trial and judgment for their crimes, their plea should not of course be granted. They must stand trial and if guilty be punished. But after expiation of their offense, if they should still desire to go to Russia, no serious objection ought to be interposed. The best way to convince an alleged American that Russia is better than his own country is to let him go to Russia, become a Bolshevik expatriate and forbidden readmission to the country whose government he conspired to overthrow.

The government of Holland has voted to give the former crown prince of Germany the island of Weeringa as a home. The next act in Holland's striking benevolence toward the Hohenzollerns may be to locate the refugees a pension from the public treasury. She gave the Germans the use of her railroads to transport war materials, in violation of the rules of neutrality; she let the defeated Prussian armies march across her territory and now she gives generous refuge to the deserting Hohenzollerns. What more could be asked of a country to justify its reputation for "inviolable asylum"?

NOTES and COMMENT

Until Senator France's political weight shall have been more accurately determined it is improbable that a general alarm will be turned in by the Republican party because of his "warning" that it must take a new stand. If it shall turn out that he is able to start a new party along the other general lines of the G. O. P., with its birthplace in Maryland, then all who consider the situation as menacing will have time to act accordingly.

The president of the National Retail Shoe Dealers' Association predicts that prices will come down this spring. Immediately, however, the public is warned not to get too glad, as the reduction will not apply to everything worn on the feet. There is a hope that the reductions will not be of a character with those of some food products, which are reported most encouragingly in headings but dwindle to nothingness when the ultimate consumer tries to realize on them.

Senator Cummins of Iowa may conclude that fate is hard. He was the author of the rail-strike provision in the railroad bill. The provision was rejected, notwithstanding which the railroad men are out for his senatorial scalp. And there are a lot of railroad men in Iowa.

It seems that nearly everything that is attempted officially to make this country habitable for loyal people has to be probed. Investigation of the Labor Department, as to its performance in carrying out the deportation of undesirable aliens, is proposed in the Senate. It would seem that such a patriotic duty could be performed straightforwardly.

Senator McDonald has an unusual way of inspiring terror. As the friend of a man up on a charge of having violated the prohibition law he threatened, if the magistrate held the man to answer, that he would report him to Senator Phelan. Which would suggest a situation, at least in the McDonald mind, that had not generally obtained.

Blasco Ibanez says that "illusion is the most valuable thing in life." Perhaps so; but there will have to be voluminous elucidation before everybody is able to "get" the renowned Spaniard's idea.

Alameda is attracting attention by doing the unusual thing of foresting a town. Under city auspices it is to set out along the streets 4000 Norway maples. After setting them out they will be officially cared for, and thus stand a good chance of escaping the fate of many trees set out by property owners and left to survive or perish as the case may be. Seems to be an idea.

The news is that relief ships, despatched to hungry countries with flour, are to take their cargoes with undesirable. Four hundred Russians, Poles and Poles, whose room is infinitely preferred to their company, are to be thus shunted over in flour ships within a month. Undoubtedly the flour will be welcomed.

Now there is a fish plague. Fish are reported to have acquired the gift fever. Looks as though it is just one profane thing after another to help along the H. C. L.

It is news to some that copper is in the doldrums. During the war it took on a very rich tint, which it seems to have lost with the coming of peace, though such news as the world has enjoyed since the signing of the armistice shouldn't have made the difference. The import plant at Redding has been shut down because of the low price.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

The educational problem will not be solved until teachers are paid adequate salaries. Teaching is a highly specialized occupation and to keep it from degenerating into a minimum is to discourage many competent and potentially qualified men and women from entering it as a profession. The Presidential campaign is opening, with very little assured for the future. It is safe to say that Pennsylvania will go Republican and that Mississippi will go Democratic. —Grass Valley Union

STATE PRESS

Something really must be done about the high cost of everything, and of some things in particular, before our whole democratic social structure is undermined. Baseballs and bats have gone up in price so that they are beyond the reach of the average small boy, and even neighborhood "nines" can scarcely scrape together funds to supply the merest essentials for the national game. —Woodland Mail

Why be faint-hearted over the water situation in California? It is not a beneficent Providence sending rain and snow in such manner and in such quantities as to make sure a far more generous reserve than pessimists thought possibly could be expected? Serene faith in Providence, backed by good judgment in not wasting what Providence bestows, is never misplaced. —Long Beach Press

There is a prophesy to chew on, no matter how unweelcome: Owing to race suicide and wars the white races are diminishing, while the yellow races are multiplying like guinea pigs. ## DEFENDING THE ROOSTER

To the Editor of THE TRIBUNE: Another word in behalf of the rooster. It might serve as a final word to those who would suppress the crow of the rooster through a city ordinance, to suggest that they can never get an ordinance of that kind enacted into a law. No one would think of doing that. The rooster with a burdensome amount of gray matter, but we all give them credit for having sense enough to keep out of the fire when they can see the fire. They know, if they know anything, that every rooster has as many votes as there are voters in the family to which he belongs. You anti-roosterites can understand if you can understand anything, that you are up against a hard proposition. You ought to have, without stretching the imagination beyond its limits, as much sense as the commissionaires.

Replying to the doubts cast upon my moral and political record and affiliations, will say that I have been a prohibitionist since the Chicago fire and an equal suffragist since the centennial exposition. This should satisfy Mr. T. W. Hunter who so gratuitously makes irrelevant and unpertinent suggestions with regard to my present and past alignment.

But that has nothing to do with the rooster and his constitutional rights. Let the rooster crow. The trouble with a lot of people is they do not understand the rooster when he crows and says in plain words, "So semper tyrannus."

J. M. DAVIS.

To the Editor of THE Tribune:

I should like to echo the opinion of A. A. McGregor, in last night's TRIBUNE in regard to the cry and hue that has been raised in regard to a few roosters crowing.

Anyone that has no more to do than caw over a thing of that kind, is only a parasite on the earth. Machinery that ran so fast is going faster yet. ## HEALTH and HADDINESS

Real Foot Comfort—What Science Suggests to Win It

By DR. LEONARD K. HINSBERG
A. B. M. A. M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University)

The leather of your shoes allows very little room for the air to circulate over your feet. For this reason it is well to pay as much attention to the airing of your feet as to their bath. Change your shoes, therefore, twice daily. Hang up your stockings to dry and place your shoes where they can get plenty of air before you put them on again the next morning. If your feet perspire profusely or feel weary rub them well with alcohol after you have bathed them.

Precautions against such abnormalities as ingrowing toe nails and soft and hard corns do not always prevent their appearance. Some of the most careful women allow themselves to be swayed into purchasing shoes which are too narrow and sometimes even too short. This is the first cause for suffering.

The nails must have enough room to grow, the natural growth, and the flesh, therefore, grows over the nail. Besides improper footwear this condition of the nail may result if they are cut too short, especially at the angles. The skin thus naturally grows over the nails and then the flesh is pushed farther and farther up until inflammation is set up and acute suffering results. A small tumor accompanies this situation usually, and this forms pus and may go on to form the so-called "proud flesh."

The toenail should be cut in a concave form, and the outer angle should project beyond the toe. If there is a tendency for the flesh to grow over the nail the flesh should be pushed back from the nail and fastened in this position with a strip of oxide of zinc plaster and a gauze packing should be inserted under the nail edge. A saturated solution of borac acid serves as an antiseptic dressing. It is often possible to cut off the projecting nail and by the use of borac acid dressing the trouble disappears in a few days. Attention should always be given to the toenails when you bathe.

Corns are just as painful as ingrown toenails. Soft corns come between the toes, and unless you place oiled wax paper to prevent the rubbing of the toes together a second corn appears on the surface of the adjoining toe. A very effective remedy is the application of bluestone or sulphide of copper to the corn. The stone is moistened in water and then applied thoroughly to the corn. Now place absorbent cotton between the toes, and if your pain is very severe it may be necessary to keep off the feet for a few days.

"Brown has lots of good ideas." "Oh, yes; he's got an excellent memory."

ORDINANCE ADDING FIFTY PATROLMEN TO CITY FORCE PASSED

ACT SEQUEL TO PLEA OF CIVIC BODIES

An ordinance providing for the appointment of fifty additional patrolmen in the Police Department, in accordance with an appeal from representatives of fourteen civic organizations for further police protection to halt attacks upon industrial workers, was given final passage by the City Council this morning.

The ordinance will go into effect on April 1, when it is expected that the additional patrolmen will be appointed from among the candidates filing applications to take the examination for the position, which is to be held April 22. Some difficulty is expected in securing enough men to fill the new places and the six existing vacancies.

Before the ordinance was voted through this morning, J. F. Morse, commissioner of public health and safety, who introduced the measure after a conference with the fourteen organizations when a compromise was agreed on cutting in half the number of men requested, explained that the ordinance was necessary in order to provide additional traffic officers and to protect the outlying districts.

In response to a question by Commissioner W. H. Edwards as to whether the number of men could not be cut to 25, Commissioner Morse stated that the department might not be able to obtain the entire fifty.

The council was presented this morning with a communication from the Building Trades council protesting the appointment of the additional men for the purpose of quelling disturbances arising from the shipyard strike, and commending Commissioner Morse for his stand against the appointment of 100 new men for that purpose.

Poorly Written Bank Check Causes Trouble

A misunderstanding of one letter in a word was the cause of a virtual avalanche of trouble upon the innocent head of S. W. Purdy, Oakland business man, who was exonerated this morning by Police Judge Mortimer Smith of a charge of passing fictitious checks, made by F. D. Meyer, cashier of First Savings bank.

Purdy cashed a check made out against his deposit in the "Grocers Bank of Fresno." The check was returned with the notation that there was no such bank. In court this morning Purdy explained that the check should have read "Growers Bank," in which he had an ample deposit. He was released forthwith.

Society Girls Lead Campaign for Memorial to Be Sent to France as Tribute from America

Every Oaklander will have a share in the gift to France of the "Statue of the Mame," which will be erected on the Mame battlefield as a tribute by Americans to the French Republic as a token of appreciation for the Statue of Liberty which the French people gave to us thirty-five years ago.

Society girls of this city are conducting a drive this week to raise a fund of $1000 as Oakland's share in this statue and it is desired that every patriotic family have a part in making this gift to the people who stopped the gray wall of Huns and prevented the destruction of modern civilization in Europe.

Donations of as low as ten cents are requested by Miss Frances Redman, chairman of the local committee.

The drive ends Saturday, on which day the Liberty Hut at Fourteenth and Broadway will be thrown open to receive donations. Funds are now being taken at the Chamber of Commerce and by the girls working in theaters in the evening.

Miss Lucie Taylor has charge of the "Mame Drive" work at the American this evening, while Augustin Donovan will be the four-minute speaker. Miss Baxter will have charge Friday night at the Kinema, and Mrs. William Chapman Saturday night at the Liberty. Miss Redman is supervising the solicitation at the T. and D. all this week.

Due to the fact that the $1000 fund will be made up of small sums, great difficulty in raising the amount will be experienced unless the general public offers its contributions, Miss Redman says.

BIASED JURY CHARGES BY DOLSEN FAIL

J. H. Dolsen, examining jurors in his own defense on the charge of criminal syndicalism before Judge James G. Quinn today, failed to establish his contention that the so-called de luxe panel was prejudiced when all jurors questioned denied they had been asked their views on the criminal syndicalism law or their attitude toward alleged "reds" by David Oliphant, jury commissioner.

As this was the first jury panel selected under the jury commissioner system, Dolsen sought to establish that they had been especially selected with the view of obtaining convictions in the criminal syndicalism cases. Interviewed on the subject, Oliphant stated positively that he had never questioned any of the prospective jurors on this line when examining them for their fitness as jurors.

With eight of the panel excused for cause when they admitted prejudice and twelve excused for serving or being excused during the Wiener trial, Dolsen today exercised two peremptory challenges and excused A. W. Beam, president of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce, and John Conrad, formerly Alameda chief of police.

During the examination of Beam, Dolsen attempted to show that the organization he belonged to and all members of commerce had interests inimical to the views of radicals and were eager to convict "reds." Conrad maintained he had no prejudice against the defendant or the Communist Labor party.

Questions by Dolsen chiefly had reference to the right of the Communist Labor party to advocate a revolutionary change in the government to the extent of favoring the general strike of workers so long as it was done by lawful means. "When Dolsen used the phrase 'lawful terrorism' Deputy District Attorney Myron Harris for the prosecution said it was like speaking of 'gentle dynamite.'"

$25,000 Ransom Ready; Kidnapers Is Holding Boy

Kentucky Capitalist Will Pay
Sum Demanded in Note
From Son's Captor.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 25. — Although E. L. Little, Lexington capitalist, had announced the demand ransom would be paid, Paul Little, his eleven-year-old son, was still a captive today of the kidnapers who lured him away late yesterday. It was stated that the kidnapers demanded $25,000 ransom. Little announced all demands would be met.

The boy disappeared with an unidentified white man in the late afternoon.

Later a note was delivered to the Little home by a messenger boy, and the father admitted that it contained threats to kill his son if the ransom was not paid.

No attempts to hold the kidnapers would be made, he indicated, and no questions would be asked if the boy was returned safely.

Richmond Announces Water Plan Delay

In a communication to City Clerk L. W. Cummings this morning, the City Council was officially notified by City Clerk A. C. Paris of Richmond, of the action of the Richmond Council in delaying action on the proposed formation of a public utility district until the submission of a report from the Water Commission of the East Bay Cities.

The commission's investigation is drawn to a close and it is expected that the chief engineer of the body, P. E. Harroun, will present his report on available water sources for the East Bay communities within a few days.

Care of Daughter Is Awarded Mother

Mrs. Vera Bolla today won a battle waged for a month to secure the custody of her daughter, Mary Bolla, aged 16, Judge A. P. St. Sure reversed his decision made a month ago to have the girl committed and allowed her to return to her mother.

Mrs. Bolla declared her husband had mistreated the child in the past while intoxicated, but that he had reformed since the dry law became effective.

THUGS BIND WOMAN AND LOOT HOUSE

Bound and gagged by two men who had threatened her with revolvers, Mrs. Jack McLean, 1238 Fifth street, was held prisoner in her own home this morning while her assailants ransacked the premises and made away with money and liquors to the value of over $150.

The men jumped over a rear fence into the backyard of the McLean home and there found Mrs. McLean hanging clothes on the line. Showing their revolvers in her face they warned her against screaming and demanded that she enter the house a few paces in front of them.

One inside of the residence the men seized Mrs. McLean, bound her hands and feet and tied her to a chair. Using a large blue bandana handkerchief they gagged her mouth and left her struggling in the chair while they made a careful search for valuables.

In two empty suitcases which belonged to McLean, who is a former bartender and trainer of prizefighters, the thugs put a number of bottles of whisky which they found in the basement. This, with $20 in currency, they took with them after making certain that Mrs. McLean was securely tied.

After twenty minutes of furious struggling Mrs. McLean was able to free herself and telephone to the police. She was able to give a good description of the men, neither of whom she ever saw before. A net was thrown out around the neighborhood but no arrests have been made.

In the belief that the men escaped in an automobile Chief Lynch ordered out motor squads to tour the city and surrounding country. Inspectors Fossick, Al-Sorley, Callagher and Woods were sent out at once to the scene of the crime and all of the nearby cities were given the description of the men and asked to aid in the search.

The police characterize the robbery as one of the boldest ever perpetrated here and say from the way in which it was carried out that the robbers are evidently men with a long record in crime.

U. S. Marines Shoot Chinese Stopping Riot

Americans Act At Request of British Consul and Much
Ill-Feeling Follows.

TOKYO, March 17. — American marines which landed at Kichiang at the request of the British consul killed two Chinese coolies. They later withdrew at the request of the local authorities.

The British consul asked the marines to quell a fight between Chinese policemen and coolies, according to dispatches received here. The feeling against Americans and Europeans as a result of the incident is said to be intense.

Kichiang is a town of China in the province of Kiangsi, on the Yang Tzekiang, about 130 miles southeast of Hankow. It is a treaty port and has a foreign settlement. Its population was recently given at about 62,000.

AUCTION OF CITY SCRAP IS PROPOSED

An echo of the recent Soderberg Dacus pipe investigation resounded in the Council chamber this morning when Commissioner W. H. Edwards introduced a resolution providing for a public auction sale of a large quantity of outworn city property.

"Any old pipe in the list?" asked Mayor John L. Davis, in the midst of a temporary lull in the discussion. The remark brought a laugh from a crowded lobby of men and women.

Commissioner Frederick Soderberg then explained that he desired to make it impossible for any old city property to be sold for a detailed specification of the goods to be sold.

In making the statement he declared that it had been alleged during the pipe inquiry that the pipe involved had been sold to a second hand junk dealer.

The items on the list included ten horses, four buggies, two old runabouts, a patrol wagon, scrap iron, harvested bicycles, a concrete mixer and other old junk.

California Manufacturers' association, sought to show by telegrams from many different states where minimum wage scales are enforced, that California wages were now among the highest paid anywhere.

William Spooner of Alameda Central Labor Council, urged a minimum wage scale for women and children in industry of $25 per week. Other labor leaders believed a raise should be made.

WOMEN WORKERS ASK WAGE RAISE

An open hearing was held last night by the State Industrial Welfare Commission at the courthouse for the purpose of listening to reasons why minimum wages for minor and female employees engaged in industries throughout the state should not be advanced. Members of the commission present were A. B. C. Dohrman, Mrs. Katherine Edson of the Child Welfare Commission, and William Mathewson and P. L. Goldstein.

Secretary Sheldon of Seattle urged the commission to take newsboys and children in street trades under its wing. Women in garment makers' and waitresses' unions urged that a minimum wage in their calling be fixed at $20 per week. The fish canning interests urged a revision of the existing apprentice plan.

CUSTODY OF SON WON BY HIS FATHER

After a four-year legal battle in California courts to decide custody of his son and of a portion of the $100,000 estate of the late railroad magnate, John H. Armstrong, of Davis, the child's grandfather, Court Judge H. H. Hagan, yesterday, began action in the United States district court in San Francisco in 1916 to annul his wife's will and in the superior court in Solano county to obtain custody of the boy. The courts finally decided that the court was not a fit person financially and otherwise to be the child's guardian and awarded the custody to the grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Armstrong. The final settlement has just been effected when Raentich appeared in court at Fairfield and demonstrated that since his recent marriage he is now a proper guardian for his son. Mrs. Armstrong agreed to the decree, awarding Raentich custody of the boy.

On January 12, 1916, Court Raentich of the German nobility, began suit in the United States district court against Mrs. Armstrong, his wife's mother, for the annulment of the deed transferring $100,000 worth of property belonging to the countess to Mrs. Armstrong to be held in trust for Karl, now 5 years, old. Raentich, at the same time filed suit in Fairfield to obtain custody of the boy.

In the legal fight which has raged in the courts at intervals since 1914 the countess has contended that Mrs. Armstrong precluded the reasonable mind of his sick wife against him, causing her to cut him off with a $1 bequest, while Mrs. Armstrong declared that the countess was incompetent to manage financial affairs, that she pawned his late wife's jewels to keep from working and that he constantly failed to pay his bills.

New Dramatic Star Is Found
Among U. C. Women Students

MISS KATHRYN PRATHER of Santa Monica has won, by ability and the sheer attractiveness reflected in the portrait herewith, two of the most important dramatic leads at the University of California in her first semester's work at Berkeley.

Miss Kathryn Prather of Sophomore Class Is Selected for Leading Part in English Club Play

BERKELEY, March 25.—Taking King, a play of love and adventure, chosen for the coming English Club production, Miss Prather will have the role of Katherine de Vaucelles, the pretty French maid who inspires the love-lorn Francois Villon to thrilling deeds. For this part she was chosen from several score aspirants for the role, winning the decision of the coach, Tremont Travers, over the heads of stars of other years.

Pronounced by Mrs. Jessica Davis Nahl, coach of this year's "Parisian Answer" drama for this year's production, she has distinguished all rivals for steller honors in the first dramatic production of the English club in its staged in four years.

SCHOOL BOND
IN PIEDMONT

PIEDMONT, March 25.—Whether or not Piedmont will issue $250,000 in bonds for the purpose of constructing its own high school instead of sending its 200 high school students to Berkeley, will be definitely decided when the polls have closed tonight.

The contest over the construction of a high school has been one of the bitterest in the history of the town. The bond issue is furthered by the members of the school board and has met with opposition at the hands of the majority of the town trustees and a group of the city officials.

By resolution Monday the Oakland board of education announced that it would let after July 1 all Piedmont students from Oakland schools. This makes it imperative that Piedmont construct its own high school. Deputy District Attorney U. D. Hamilton this morning said that Oakland has the power to bar Piedmont students, inasmuch as Piedmont is now organized as a high school district.

With Oakland not having Piedmont students, it has become necessary to provide high school facilities for them. If the $250,000 bond issue is voted on today, the school board plans the construction of a six-year intermediate high school which will include the seventh and eighth grade classes from the two Piedmont elementary schools. These schools are now overcrowded by the growth of recent years.

Much of the opposition to the construction of a high school has been due to persons who contend that the high school students could be more economically handled by special taxation for use of Oakland high schools. The bond opponents also point out that Piedmont will shortly face large expenditures for the construction of adequate storm sewer facilities to carry Piedmont storm waters under Oakland streets to the bay.

Suit Would Recover
Home Improvements

PRENTISS A. DE VEUVE of Piedmont, manager of an auto sales company in San Francisco, is today planning in a suit before Judge Joseph E. Ford against Charles M. MacGregor for $300 damages. It is alleged that MacGregor sold property in Piedmont to de Veuve for $500 with the provision that the basement of the house would be repaired and a new cement walk to the garage constructed. This was done, it is alleged, but in such a poor manner that de Veuve was compelled to have the work done over, and he is suing for the money expended.

PAVING FIRM INCORPORATED

The establishing of a new concern in Emeryville to engage in the asphalt and paving business was announced today with the filing of incorporation papers for the Aris-Knapp Company, capitalized at $100,000. The directors who have each subscribed for one share at $10 are: H. W. Aris, W. F. Knapp, E. P. Field, A. K. Aris, F. A. Garcia.

beauty and purity of the maiden Laury.

Miss Prather is registered as a sophomore at the State University, receiving her first year of college work at the Hollywood Junior College, where she took a prominent part in dramatics. She comes of a southern family well known in business and social circles. Miss Prather is an unusually pretty young woman of distinctly attractive and with mass of curly brown hair to add to her attractiveness.

BOOKMAKING
BEFORE JURY

James Hughes, who was arrested in a raid on his alleged gambling resort at 2325 Webster street, Alameda, by District Attorney Ezra Decoto last night, was placed on trial on a charge of conducting a bookmaking and pool-selling establishment before Judge L. S. Church today.

At the time of the raid Decoto announced he had informed Chief of Police Jacoby of Alameda a month previous of the existence of the gambling establishment and had told him that he would get it if the Alameda police did not. It is charged that pools were being sold on eastern and southern races, regular books operated and various other forms of gambling conducted. Hughes is declared to have been the proprietor of the place. Seven men were taken in the raid. This is the first of the trials.

The entire morning session was taken up with the examination of jurors.

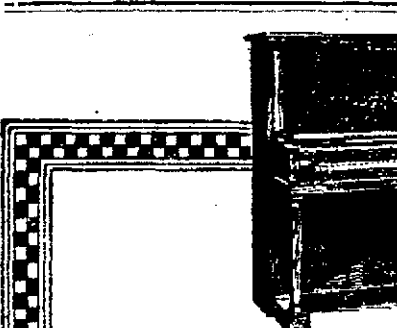

James G. McGrath, 1122 Grand street, Alameda, declared he is vigorous and opposed to horse racing and that he himself would not like to be tried on a similar charge by jurors in his frame of mind. He also said he believed there must have been some reason for the raid or the district attorney would not have made it, and that it would require considerable evidence to overcome the prejudice he entertained.

He was challenged and excused for cause. Deputy District Attorney Frank Shay is conducting the prosecution, and Attorney W. H. L. Hynes is appearing for the defendant.

SANITARY BILL TO WAIT CONFERENCE

The new ordinance regulating sanitary conditions in places of business dealing in foodstuffs will not be held before the council at once, but will be held pending conferences between P. F. Morse, commissioner of public health and safety, and representatives of the business affected by the measure, according to the announcement of Morse today.

The measure, which places drastic restrictions on all places where food is produced, manufactured, stored, exchanged or sold, was completed and presented to Commissioner Morse yesterday from the city attorney's office. It requires all employees of the business places affected to procure certificates of health every six months after examination. Commissioner Morse states that he will hold the ordinance until he has received the suggestions and protests of the business men affected, and meanwhile will secure data from Portland, Seattle and other cities that have similar ordinances, on the success of their legislation.

SOAPQuality, Not Price Should Determine Your Choice of a Piano

In these days careful buyers are asking, not "how much," but "how good." They have learned that there is no economy in "cheap" goods, and that merchandise of quality is the only kind which enables them to get lasting value for the money expended.

In no line of merchandise is quality more necessary than in Pianos. A cheaply constructed, poorly finished instrument of mediocre tone and uncertain standing, offers neither value nor satisfaction. Price is the only talking point for such instruments.

Good piano dealers will not carry these kind of instruments. It is true Pianos of dependable quality will cost a little more—but that extra cost is nothing compared to the years of use and complete satisfaction you will have in return. We carry a most comprehensive line of Pianos—many of them very old and famous makes, such as the Steinway—but they are all of dependable quality. The prices cover a wide range, and we gladly arrange convenient payment terms.

Cow's Road Speed Tested
Rain Makes It Hard Sledding
Students Betting on Race

(By THE TRIBUNE'S RACE EXPERT)

With the admission of Pathfinders J. E. Ditty and C. Vazelle, students at the University Farm school at Davis, that Molly, the bovine super-sledder, would probably not arrive in Berkeley before Friday afternoon, THE TRIBUNE hereby exclusively predicts that the race will not be completed within the allotted four days.

Molly, a respectable cow of select breeding, started from the farm school at Davis promptly at 9:59 o'clock Monday morning under the perturbing influence of a starter's pistol and while skidding at first, soon settled into a steady gait on the road to Sacramento. The course of the Marathon took her to Sacramento and through Siskiyou, where the racing crew put up at a bovine parking station last night.

The wager requires that Molly complete the course, a distance of 100 miles, in four days. That gives Molly until 9:59 tomorrow morning to pull in at the front steps of Tilgus hall on the university campus in Berkeley.

Farmers accompanying Molly, in the person of two farm school students, said last night at Stockton, according to despatches from our exclusive leased wire connections, that Molly would not reach Berkeley before tomorrow afternoon. The odds that she will win the race are weak, low, N.G. and hard to find.

At Stockton, it is predicted, that Molly will put in at Martinez tonight, completing the journey to the city in the morning. If her disposition suits an early getaway may be had and there remains a possibility that she can pull in by 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. But the odds are low. Betting this morning was 67 to 13 against Molly.

If Molly loses, even laymen in the racing game predict that many a student's watch will find its way to the lockshops, so great has been the faith in the ability of Molly to complete the course in the allotted four days. Molly got away to a flying start from Stockton early this morning.

SPEED LAW AT HILL IS UNDER FIRE

It is the opinion of Lester Whitaker, arrested for speeding on College avenue yesterday, that the police traffic squad takes a mean advantage of Oakland speedsters.

Whitaker was on trial before Police Judge Mortimer Smith this morning.

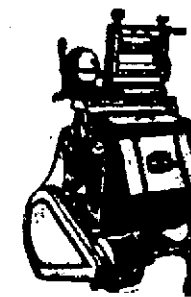

"It's entirely unfair, judge, the way these cops take advantage of unsuspecting motorists," said Whitaker.

"They lurk in waiting just at the base of the hill near College avenue and Broadway. Then when some unlucky motorist who does not drive an eight or twelve cylinder car makes a run for the hill, so that he won't have to grind up the grade in low, the traffic cops jump out and pinch him for speeding."

When questioned by the judge, Whitaker admitted that he had probably exceeded the speed limit by several miles while "making the run" for the hill. Asked by the judge what make of car he drove, he mentioned a car that is universally known.

"I call it class discrimination, judge, because that kind of car can't make the hill on high without running for it," said Whitaker.

But Judge Smith was inexorable and fined him the usual $10. Other speedsters who were fined, like Vladivostok, Siberia, and the Navy Department is sending the body to this country.
